8/4/70

Mr. Roland E. Moody
Northeastern Univ. Library
360 Huntington Ave.
Boston 15, Mass.

Dear Mr. Moody,

We have your order of 8/15/70, purchase order 98324-6-109D, for my POST MORTEM.

This work is available in only a limited, xerox edition. Because of the problems I have encountered, including plagiarism and other misuse, until we can get it printed, we are severely restricting its distribution. We sell it to no one who does not assure that no use will be made or permitted to be made of its contents. It is a simply matter, the source of everything being given, to duplicate the work and, unfortunately, this has, on a number of occasions, been done.

Assurances of this kind may be difficult for you to offer. However, if you do, I will accept them.

This is one part of a trilogy on the late President's autopsy and what relates to it. The second part is not completed but the third is. Each is $20.00.

One thing about your order fascinates me, that is the quoted price. The only public notice of this work is that of the copyright, and it gives no price. You list $8.00. Can you satisfy my curiosity?

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg

6/2/70

Mr. Roland E. Moody
Northeastern Univ. Library
360 Huntington Ave.
Boston 15, Mass.

Dear Mr. Moody,

We have your order of 5/15/70, purchase order 98594-6-108D, for my POST MORTEM.

This work is available in only a limited, xerox edition. Because of the problems I have encountered, including plagiarism and other misuse, until we can get it printed, we are severely restricting its distribution. We sell it to no one who does not assure that no use will be made or permitted to be made of its contents. It is a simply matter, the source of everything being given, to duplicate the work and, unfortunately, this has, on a number of occasions, been done.

Assurances of this kind may be difficult for you to offer. However, if you do, I will accept them.

This is one part of a trilogy on the late President's autopsy and what relates to it. The second part is not completed but the third is. Each is $20.00.

One thing about your order fascinates me, that is the quoted price. The only public notice of this work is that of the copyright, and it gives no price. You list $8.00. Can you satisfy my curiosity?

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg